

HOT '97
morning girl Lisa G.

Style & Substance

You may have heard Lisa Glasberg — aka Lisa G. — on the radio. Or you may have spied her on TV.

But the award-winning voice of HOT 97's "Morning Show with Ed, Lisa and Dre" — not to mention the E! channel's "Gossip Show" alum, frequent Ricki Lake guest, and current WCBS on-air personality — isn't all flash. Lisa G. claims to be just as at home when, well, at home — like when she's cooking in her beloved kitchen.

And she's no fashion slouch. A clothes junkie, Lisa G. gets high on fun hot pink clothes, flirty tank tops, and trendy knee-high boots.

Here's Lisa G. on Lisa G.:

Q. You would be my neighbor if you lived:

A. In a World of Nuts candy store or a hot concert.

Q. Right now I'm wearing:

A. A gray merino ribbed turtleneck from Club Monaco, black stretchies from Banana Republic, and suede Nine West knee-high boots.

Q. Three words to describe my personal style:

A. Funky, functional and fabulous.

Q. The last piece of clothing I bought is:

A. A fabulous short pink maribou jacket from bebe.

Q. I feel like a million bucks when I put on:

A. An outfit that clicks with my make up and hair.

Q. For work, I usually wear:

A. A Channel 2 microphone and a smile.

Q. On a Casual Friday, you'll find me in:

A. Leggings, an over-sized sweater and short little boots.

Q. ... but by 11 o'clock that same evening, I'm decked out in:

A. A Dana Buchman pure white sequined tank top and knee-length black skirt, sheer stockings, and my $25 Parade of Shoes sling-back pointed pumps.

Q. I come dangerously close to maxing out my credit cards when shopping at:

A. Radio Shack, Saks Fifth Avenue and bebe.

Q. When I'm feeling thrifty, I bargain shop at:

A. Any flea market in SoHo.

Q. Egads! My worst fashion faux pas was:

A. Going to a very conservative "pearl and velvet" fund raiser wearing a tank top and a sheer leopard print jacket with faux fur collar.

Q. A piece of fashion advice I'd pass on to my daughter:

A. Wear clothes you're comfortable in and that make you feel good.
